EIGHTEENTH YEAR

SAFFORD, GRAHAM COUNTY, ARIZONA, NOVEMBER 1, 1912

NUMBER 37

HAYDEN WILL BE A SURE WINNER

Arizona's Popular Democratic Congressman Will Lead on November 5th

HAS MADE A GOOD RECORD

As an Honest Representative of the People and for the People

Carl Hayden, Arizona's popular congressman, was a visitor in town last Thursday and was given a cordial reception in the evening at Brier's Hall, which was filled to overflowing with people from Safford and the surrounding country gathered to greet him and welcome him to Safford.

Mr. Hayden made a rattling Democratic speech in favor of Wilson and Marshall, democratic candidates for president and vice president, declaring that this was democracy's year and that Wilson and Marshall would lead in the battle for ballots on November 5th.

Mr. Hayden has done well in his first year as the representative in Congress of the people of Arizona and deserves his re-election, and right here it may be said that Carl will certainly win out by a large majority on November 5th.

During the last session of Congress, Mr. Hayden kept his promises to the people of Arizona and voted for the following measures:

An amendment to the constitution providing for the popular election of United States senators.

A contempt bill, which provides, under certain conditions, for a trial by jury and appeal, as in other legal proceedings.

A bill to establish agricultural extension departments in connection with agricultural colleges in the several States, and for an experiment farm in every agricultural county in the United States.

A bill establishing a children's bureau, charged with timely investigation of infant mortality, the birth rate, orphanage, juvenile courts, desertion, dangerous occupations, accidents and diseases of children.

A bill to protect American trade and American shipping from foreign monopolies.

A bill creating a department of labor and making it a member of the president's cabinet.

Measures revising the tariff downward to a revenue basis, thus affecting the schedules of most vital moment to the people, namely: wool, cotton, metal, chemical, and has placed sugar and other necessary food products on free list.

A bill providing for an excise tax on incomes, thereby transferring a considerable portion of the tax burdens to the wealthy, which are escaping their proper contribution to government expenses.

A farmers' free list bill.

A bill placing sugar on the free list.

Mr. Hayden's record in Congress was all that the people of Arizona could wish. He kept his word in everything, done his duty as an honest public servant, and should be repaid now by an overwhelming majority which will give him two years more as Arizona's representative in the House of Congress.

HAMLIN WINS RACE

From Los Angeles to Phoenix.

Stevens Wins from San Diego

PHOENIX, October 20.—Ralph Hamlin, four times before contended for the Los Angeles road race, won the fifth annual desert classic today, when, with his face covered with yellow mud, he drove the Franklin, the same car used in his previous races, to the State fair grounds at 2:05. Soul's, driving a Cadillac, came in half an hour later, followed closely by Fred Fuller in a National. McKee in a Cadillac was the only other Los Angeles racer to arrive tonight. The time of Hamlin was 18 hours 42 minutes; Soul's 19 hours and 25 minutes; Fuller 20 hours and 19 minutes; McKee 23 hours and 36 minutes.

Campbell Stevens, in a Duryea, won the San Diego to Phoenix race, arriving at 8:49. His time was given as 17 hours and 39 minutes. The official time will be announced later. The drivers were forced to tow the cars over the Hassayampa and Agua Fria rivers, which were swollen by cloud-bursts.

NEAR COMPLETION

Water Company Is Ready to Receive the Orders and make Contracts

The work of laying the mains that will supply Safford with the best mountain water is progressing rapidly, and in fact has now reached a point so near to completion, that the water company is ready to receive orders for water from the residents of Safford and to make contracts for same.

In one way the water system of Safford will be far ahead of any other water system that has been constructed for small towns, and that will be in the fact that the supply mains will not be less than four inches, thus insuring a larger and better supply of water for homes and business places, as well as for fire purposes, at all times.

This means a great deal and will undoubtedly make the water system of Safford the best in Arizona when completed.

Now is the time to get ready for inducing the water into your homes and business places. It will help the company a great deal in determining the plans for extending the mains in the different streets of the town, if the people would send in their orders without delay and be prepared to make their contracts for the supply they may need.

Safford, with a supply of the best water piped into its homes and business places, and the further knowledge that the supply for fire purposes will be adequate for all demands that would be made upon it in case of fire, will certainly be a much different place than at present, and prove an incentive for home builders that does not now exist.

Get busy, place your orders and make your contracts.

ARIZONA LEADS IN COPPER

Produced 303,202,532 Pounds Blister Copper in 1911

WASHINGTON, October 29.—Arizona has a record production of 3,494,333,111 pounds of copper, or 21.28 per cent of the total output of the United States since mining began, according to a report issued today by the geological survey.

In 1911 Arizona produced 303,202,532 pounds of blister of copper, as compared with 297,251,588 pounds in 1910. This is the largest output in the history of the State and continues Arizona in first place among the copper producing States. She produced 27.63 per cent of the total output of the country for 1911.

The steady output of copper from Arizona began about 1875, though there was intermittent production prior to that date, the earliest record of production being for 1862.

Since 1880, the growth of the industry has been steady and rapid. Nine copper smelting plants operated within the State during the year.

SHERMAN IS DEAD

Vice President of the United States Passes Away at Utica

UTICA, N. Y., October 30.—After a long illness, Vice President James S. Sherman died at his home at 9:42 Wednesday night, of uraemic poisoning caused by Bright's disease.

He had been sinking since early in the morning and it was realized that death was only a question of a few hours. There was a slight relief shortly before 7 o'clock by an apparent movement of the kidneys, but it did not prove real or lasting and at best gave only a temporary hope. At 9 o'clock the temperature of the patient rose to 106, and from that time his condition rapidly passed from bad to worse until the end.

He was unconscious when death came and that had been his condition for hours. All members of the family were witnesses at the final scene, including his wife, her sister and brother, his two brothers, their three sons and their wives. He had been entirely unconscious since 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Sherman bore up bravely under the shock of her husband's death, as also did other members of the family.

The announcement of his death spread rapidly over the city. Universal sorrow was expressed. Immediate steps will be taken for proper recognition of the sorrowful event. Vice President Sherman was regarded as the first citizens of Utica. All differences growing out of politics died with him.

All political parties took steps to recognize the event. The progressives announced their intention of canceling all meetings until after funeral.

A REMINDER TO WOMEN

The present campaign for equal suffrage has been comparatively short, less than four months having elapsed since the filing of the initiative petition. Thus it has happened that the women of the State, as a whole, have not been called upon to render active service in the cause.

We know, of course, that men and women throughout the State feel a deeper interest in this campaign and the success of the amendment on November 5th. But now, with election less than a week in the future, we feel that something more than a general interest is demanded by the question of equal suffrage.

The vital need of the hour—and of every hour from now until the closing of the polls on the fifth of November—is earnest, consistent, individual effort on the part of every friend of the amendment.

The men of the State, in general, are looking with more favor upon this proposition of votes for women than ever before. Therefore, it is not only fitting, but imperative that the women manifest the greatest active interest possible, in order that the men may know that we want the ballot.

We know many men who say that they would willingly vote for the amendment if only the women of their household and their women friends would ask them to. Obviously then, the thing to do is to ask.

Those actively in charge of the work at headquarters in Phoenix, have done everything possible to cover the field in a general way, by sending as many speakers as have been available to the places which seemed to have the greatest need. We had hoped to reach every town in the State, but lack of speakers has made this impossible. Hence this appeal to the women, individually and collectively, to work untiringly for the amendment during the remaining days of the campaign.

Those desiring literature for distribution, should apply to Mrs. Alice Park, Hotel Adams, Phoenix. Next in importance to securing votes for the amendment, is the matter of funds, which are needed to carry this work to a successful termination. It should be a matter of pride to the people of Arizona to meet the expenses of this campaign without outside help. And so we are giving them the opportunity to respond as generously as possible to this call for financial aid.

Again we urge every friend of equal suffrage to work earnestly and diligently for the next week, to the end that we may roll up the very largest majority in the history of Votes for Women.

MRS. FRANCES M. MUNDIS.

ARIZONA HOLDS FIRST STATE FAIR

Formally Opened at Noon Monday with Record Breaking Attendance

EXHIBITS ARE BEST EVER SEEN

Many Conventions are Being Held in Phoenix during Fair Week

Arizona's first State fair, through its eight annual exposition of the resources of the State, was formally opened at noon Monday, October 28th, with a record breaking attendance.

Governor Hunt and staff and all State officers were in attendance. Thousands of automobile enthusiasts, including two special train loads of automobile boosters, one from San Diego and one from Los Angeles, gathered on the grounds early to witness the finish of the San Diego-Phoenix and Los Angeles-Phoenix road races.

Judging from the crowded conditions of the hotels and lodging houses, and the demands for accommodations made by letter and wire, the attendance at the fair will be a record breaker.

The live stock exhibit is the largest and best ever seen at any State fair and is attracting much attention. The showing of Jerseys, Holsteins, Dutch Belts, Durhams, Alderneys and Ayrshires is particularly good. In the horse department every stall was filled.

The poultry show occupies two buildings. The dog show is the best ever held in the State.

In the sheep, Angora goat and hog department every pen is filled. The fair commissioners are pleased with the results of their efforts to make the fair an exposition of the agricultural, dairying and cattle, sheep, goat and hog raising industries of the State.

A number of conventions are also being held this week at Phoenix. The State Association of County Assessors meets with the Tax Commission. The Arizona Stock Growers' Association held their annual convention. The Arizona State Teachers' Association is also holding its annual convention. The Arizona Foremen and the Arizona Sportsmen's Associations are meeting in Phoenix this week.

The managers of the fair have taken the precaution to provide plenty of music, and besides the bands of Phoenix, have bands from Tucson, Prescott, Globe and Bisbee, and the famous Fourth Cavalry band from Fort Huachuca.

M. L. Naquin, driving car No. 1, a Vellie, won the Globe to Phoenix race, Sunday. Time, 5 hours and 21 minutes.

John Scott won the sociability race from Douglas to Phoenix.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Possibly most people who are interested in these notes already know that the writer is pastor of the First Methodist Church of this place. I have not met you all, but hope to do so in the near future.

My home is at Wilcox, and I shall be in Safford to preach at least once in two weeks. My next appointment will be Sunday, November 10th, at the usual hour, 7:30 p. m. If possible we want to arrange, after awhile, for services in the morning also.

We have a good Sunday school and we hope the workers will not slacken their zeal and efforts in that direction, for the coming church depends very much upon the kind of religious teaching and training the children of the present day are given.

T. A. WINDSOR, Pastor.

DENTISTS IN TOWN

Safford has been without a dentist for over a month, it now has two and another one coming. Dr. M. E. Brenner, whose announcement appears in this issue. Dr. F. Brockman, of Globe, will be at the Olive Hotel until November 6th. Dr. J. B. Hadden, of Louisville, Ky., is also at the Olive Hotel and expects to remain here permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crandall, and child, and Mrs. Stanley Crandall and young son, left Saturday morning for Los Angeles, California. Mr. Crandall will take up the study of medicine. Mrs. Stanley Crandall goes to join her husband, who is now employed in Los Angeles.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Arizona Women Send Greeting to Arizona Men for Their Votes

Reasons why voters of the Republican, Democratic, Progressive, Socialist and Prohibition parties should vote yes on the Woman's Suffrage Amendment, November 5th:

1. Your party has a suffrage plank in State platform.

2. Simple justice to the women of Arizona, who deserve equal consideration with the women of Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Washington, California and China.

3. Business. Arizona will receive thousands of columns of free and favorable advertising when it gives votes to women. It will then take a place with the six great States already free, and its name will continue to be advertised freely and favorably from year to year.

To the voters who are independent of party:

As you value your independence and freedom of choice, give to the women of Arizona, now governed like children who never grow up, independence and freedom equal to your own.

Women are voting now. Women in Arizona are sure to vote before long. Look pleasant, be generous and vote yes, November 5, 1912.

LOSS BY FOREST FIRES

"Forest fires in the United States have caused an average annual loss of about 70 human lives, the destruction of trees worth at the very least $25,000,000, and the loss of stock, crops, buildings, and other improvements to the amount of many millions more. To these must be added enormous losses from the destruction of young tree growth, deterioration of the soil, damage to water courses and adjacent property by low water and flood, interruption of business, and depreciation of property. By inquiry into the causes and extent of such fires we are able to realize in some degree the magnitude of their losses, even though their annual amount in dollars may not be apparent."

Such is the opening statement of Bulletin 117 of the Forest Service issued by Secretary Wilson which is devoted to forest fires, their causes and prevention.

DEATH OF MRS. PHILLIPS

Passes Away at Her Home in Thatcher Monday

Mrs. Elizabeth W. Phillips died Monday, October 28th, at her home in Thatcher of typhoid fever. The funeral services were held in the Thatcher meeting house at 2:00 p. m., October 30th, and the large assembly that gathered from all the surrounding settlements was an evidence to husband and relatives present of true sympathy for them in the hour of their sorrow. The services were impressive and were conducted by Bishop Tyler.

The floral offerings were as follows: The Broken Wheel, daughter inscribed; Large Heart, wife inscribed; The Gates Ajar, the Cross and large wreaths. Enough small bouquets to completely cover the casket. The flowers were taken care of by her most intimate friends and a picture was taken of the casket and flowers.

The speakers were: W. W. Pace, who told of Mrs. Phillips' noble and cheerful character in life, and of the devotion that existed between her and her husband. President John F. Nash made a beautiful talk on this life and the hope we have of the hereafter. Elder John Bilby spoke of the little acts of kindness she had rendered in life and of her true devotion to husband and family. The singing was conducted by Prof. E. M. W. Jones. "Sometime We'll Understand," "Sister, Thou Wast Mild and Lovely," solo, "Wait," by Priscilla Layton; "I Need Thee Every Hour." Opening prayer by Counselor George Hoopes. Closing prayer by E. M. Clawson. Heber Layton was in charge of the funeral cortege.

Mrs. Selena L. Phillips hastened to her mother's bedside on being telegraphed of her illness, only to reach there six hours after the vital spark had fled. Services were held in Gardston, Canada. The body was embalmed and shipped to Utah for burial in President Christopher Layton's burial lot in Kayville, October 8th. She returned October 17th to find her son, Jesse's wife very sick with typhoid fever, who passed away October 28th. This has been a month of sickness and sorrow for Mrs. Phillips and she has the sympathy of all in this hour of sorrow.

SOCIALISTS HOLD ROUSING MEETING

George H. Goebel Delivers an Interesting Address at Brier's Hall

JUST ONE GREAT ISSUE

"How Can an Intelligent Man Starve to Death in a Room Filled With Food?"

The Socialists of Safford and the Gila valley held a rousing meeting at Brier's Hall, Tuesday evening. The hall was comfortably filled, many ladies being present.

T. C. Schaeffer presided and introduced the speaker, George H. Goebel, of Newark, N. J. Mr. Goebel is a national campaign lecturer for the Socialist party, and has only recently returned from Alaska, where, as a result of his organizing and lecturing work, the Socialist candidate for Congress ran second in the race, this being the party's first campaign.

Mr. Goebel's style of speaking is peculiarly his own and is extremely effective. He spoke with great rapidity and did not confine himself to a text. He chose rather to lead his listeners here and there on mental excursions, thrusting the main problem in front of them at unexpected moments and from unusual angles.

Mr. Goebel's address in part was as follows:

"We have many candidates, Taft, Wilson, Roosevelt and Debs. Many parties and many platforms on which these men stand—but there is just one issue, and that issue is wrapped up in the big question I ask here tonight. How can an intelligent man starve to death in a room filled with food?"

"How is it, despite a land wonderfully gifted in natural resources, new labor saving machinery and a country steadily growing richer, that the mass of the working class must each day worry more as to the problem of how to live, this growing worry and uncertainty extending even to the small business and professional class that hitherto have been reasonably secure? Want and worry in a land of plenty, that is the problem and the issue that must be met or see the nation go down in a chaos of bloody revolution that every decent man wants to avoid."

"Some say the tariff, currency or drink question are the source or solution of starvation midst plenty, but England has free trade, Germany a high tariff, France, tariff for revenue only; some countries have one financial system, some another, while, when panic comes on they hit not only New York and New Jersey with saloons, but also Maine and Kansas without any saloons, thus by logical deduction proving the answer is not in tariff, currency or temperance legislation."

"Now, how can an intelligent man starve in a room filled with food? Don't say that it is God's will. That is blasphemy and an insult to God."

"The Creator has given us a heritage of riches that should command our respect and admiration. Every day we find some new way of applying the resources of nature to our needs. Yet, the more food there is in the house the more there are who starve."

"People say we are poor because we are lazy, but the best proof that the working class is not lazy is in the fact that they will work the hours they do under the conditions they do for the pay they do."

"They say that we waste our substance in riotous living. The very ones who work most and waste most have most."

"No, it is not riotous living. 'The average working man can not live riotously on his meagre pay.'"

"Conditions are the same all over the world."

Now, human history boils down to one sentence,—Whenever anything gets between the stomach and the thing that stomach wants, something is going to happen to that thing. The thing that today is in the way of real, all-embracing prosperity is capitalism—private ownership of the mills, towns and railroads."

"Capitalism can't fill the stomachs, so capitalism must go. Socialism—collective ownership—can fill the stomachs, so Socialism is coming."
